Commodore's Report

by Linda Thompson

thompson.lindadunbar@gmail.com

August has never been one of my favorite months. We're all done with the hot weather and ready for some cool weather and college football. But first, we need to celebrate PBYC! We signed the lease for our new home, and the building committee has been hard at work designing the layout for the new bar and all the plumbing and electrical that goes along with it. I've seen some previews of the bar layout and I can promise you will love the sunset views. Our membership base continues to grow in anticipation of our new place and the Board is so excited !

Up next is our General Membership Meeting on August 10 at our new home. Once again, since we are still working on getting our liquor license, please BYOB and chair. We will be discussing some by-law changes (that didn't scare everyone did it?) and a dues increase (now I really scared everyone off!) to take place upon move-in.

See everyone on and in the water!!

Rear Commodore's Report by Pam Mauldwin

pmauldwin@gmail.com

I was at our new space today when I got a reminder to submit a spreader blurb. So I sat on my boat and watched the incredible sunset, and thought about what to write. But I didn't write anything because I was joined by a couple of club members, and we visited and enjoyed a lovely evening. And then I thought that this is how it's going to be...members get together and watch the sunset and talk about boats or whatever else and enjoy the camaraderie. And that's a pretty good way to get through your day.

We don't have a lot planned socially other than the general membership meeting August 10th. I'm still looking for volunteers to bartend when we do open the clubhouse. I'm looking for commitments for four hour shifts, twice a month minimum. If you are interested, please text or email me your name, phone number, and email, and I will add you to the list. We have two amazing highly experienced bartenders, who have offered to help train our volunteers. I think most of you know Lori from the Elks, and some of you probably know Brad from Cumaru/Tiki. They are both amazing and will help you be confident in your bartender abilities!

Once this crazy heat breaks, we will be doing a rum share/tasting at our new space. Anyone who wants to participate should start thinking about the rum they want to present and gathering information to share. Please make sure to let me know if you're going to participate, so we don't end up with five bottles of the same rum! As we gear up with our clubhouse, we'll be looking to expand social activities. Send me your ideas! And enjoy the rest of your summer.

Fleet Captain's Report by Mark Taylor

mlt454@gmail.com

It's been an unusually hot summer on the bay, and Race for the Roses was no exception. The race started with light to medium air, and by the time we got the second race underway, it was blowing a steady 20kn. Our good friends on Hot Chocolate had a heat related incident with one of their crewmembers. Then, there was a collision between Aisling and UH~OHH which brought out a protest which was not allowed due to the fact of improper flag deployment. (Read more about the protest rules at the bottom of my article). The overall winners for all female crew in non-spinnaker went to Sheet Show from Point Clear Yacht Club, and the overall winner for the all female crew spinnaker class went to PBYC's UH~OHH. Further congratulations go to the crew of UH~OHH who went on to win the Trilogy Championship this past weekend. Congratulations to all the ladies sailors and thanks for getting on the bay.

Coming up, August 12 is the Big Mouth Regatta, which is typically a lighter endeavor but who knows with what we saw this past summer. Register now on Regatta Network.

And even if you don't race, join us for post-race awards at our new space at 655 Pensacola Beach Blvd. And, please remember to BYOB and chair because we don't have our liquor license yet.

More details on protest rules:

The protest between the two boats was not allowed due to the fact of improper flag deployment. Remember, if you are competing in a Regatta, carry a red flag to be able to deploy a protest. Here is a short explanation from Charlie Harp (Pensacola Bay Chief Judge):

"A number of protests involving contact between boats have been ruled invalid due to improper display of protest flags. RRS 61.1 requires that a boat "shall conspicuously display a red flag at the first reasonable opportunity... until she is no longer racing".

This means that The flag must be seen primarily to be a flag (Case 72). A red hat, a crewman's red t-shirt, that red streamer from last year's challenge cup are not flags.

The flag must be "conspicuously displayed" in other words visible to the protested boat.

Appeal 66 found that a 2 inch by 8 inch flag on a 40 foot boat was not "conspicuous". A flag displayed on a leeward shroud may not be visible to a windward boat.

The flag must be displayed until you are no longer racing. If it falls off before you finish, you have not met the requirement. The flag must be displayed at the first reasonable opportunity which normally means immediately (Appeals 67,82,124). If you have to send a crewmember to find the flag, that is not soon enough. If you spend a minute thinking about protesting, that is not soon enough. Finally, being untruthful to a protest committee either by lying or omitting details about displaying the flag (or anything else) could subject you to a RRS 69 report. Our sport is self policing and it is up to the competitors to obey and enforce the rules (RRS 2 and 4). The RRS are primarily about safety and it is no fun to play the game if we don't all do ourbest to follow them."

See you on the bay!
